that it can come within the purview of the feasibility limit? All these things can be examined and see that the government takes a decision in this connection.

1-00 P.M.

SRI D. DEVARAJ URS,— That is one way of looking at it. But I cannot quarrel with the technical men because of fact that in view of their experience they must have taken that decision. Whether this region or that region, tanks are broken on account of overflow and other reasons. Although I don't have anything to say so far as technical opinion is concerned, the aspect which you referred to will be asked to be considered. I cannot be a technical man on this point. All these aspects will be examined.

SRI S. R. BOMMAI.— I have read in the Press the statement made by the Cheif Engineer stating that the World Bank has agreed to give Rs. 200 crores for our irrigation projects in the State. Though it is not directly relevant to this question, thare is a statement to that effect. I have also heard in the Radio. If that is so, I welcome it. It will improve our agricultural projects. I want to know from the Chief Minister about this.

SRI D. DEVARAJ URS.— The International Monetary Fund team visited the State. They have asked us to prepare a scheme. So, we have prepared a scheme for nearly Rs. 100 crores. If it is accepted, we will be getting it and within 3-4 years, we can complete most of the irrigation projects.

MR. SPEAKER.— Question Hour is over.
